

Sub-Zero and Wolf 2008-09 Kitchen Design Contest

Official Contest Rules. All design and construction must be fully completed within the contest period of January 1, 2008, to December 31, 2009. The individual entrant must be the person who designed the kitchen. If a team of two or more designers enters the contest and is selected as a regional winner, only one trip for two and one cash prize of $500 will be awarded. The designers must decide who will attend the contest celebration.

Best Use and International Category Entry Details. Kitchen entries must include at least one full-size Sub-Zero built-in or integrated unit for refrigeration and Wolf cooking appliance as its primary food preparation equipment. This includes ranges, rangetops, ovens and cooktops. Wolf ventilation, microwave ovens and warming drawers are not included.

Entries must include all of the following:

- Completed official entry form with model numbers of the Sub-Zero and Wolf products.
- Floor plan and elevation or perspective drawings, (8.5" x 11" format preferred).
- A minimum of two 5" x 7" or 8" x 10" color photographs of the completed design. Additional photos are welcomed with "before" shots if possible.
- A written narrative of no more than 200 words describing your kitchen design. We want to hear about the design challenges you faced and how you overcame them.

Designer or firm name must not appear on any plans, narrative or photographs. Entries must be received by January 8, 2010 to be eligible. A panel of industry professionals selected by Sub-Zero and Wolf will evaluate all entries. The decisions of the judges are final. Regional winners will be notified and announced the week of February 8, 2010.

Contestants may enter more than one design in the Sub-Zero and Wolf 2008-09 Kitchen Design Contest. A completed entry form and all items listed must accompany each entry.

Only professionals, including kitchen dealers, kitchen designers, architects, interior designers and builders/remodelers, are eligible to participate in the Sub-Zero and Wolf 2008-09 Kitchen Design Contest.
